

UNIPhD - COFUND PhD Programme

2022 Call Summary

What does UNIPhD offer?

UNIPhD offers a brand new International, Intersectoral, Interdisciplinary and Innovative “training through research” PhD-programme. It involves 25 PhD-Courses covering all scientific domains: 8 in Life Sciences (LS), 10 in Physical Sciences and Engineering (PE), 5 in Social Sciences and Humanities (SH), 2 cross-domain PE-LS. Overall, 50 full time fellowships are available. Each fellowship is associated to a research topic, that is a framework within which every applicant has to propose an original research project.

How to apply?

Candidates must apply online through the PICA platform <https://pica.cineca.it/unipd/>. They can present only 1 application, choosing from 1 out of the 50 available research topics. When writing the proposal, applicants should carefully consider the UNIPhD Guide for applicants.

Information & Contacts
